

Peter Kariatlis

Senior Valuation Actuary, Gen Re Life Australia

Skills & experience

Life insurance valuation actuary with over 15 years of experience, including 10 years post-qualification, specializing in financial and risk analysis to inform executive decision-making. Peter can support you in growing capability, critical thinking, problem solving, adaptability, and commercial acumen.

Peter Kariatlis is a qualified actuary and experienced professional who serves as Senior Valuation Actuary at Gen Re Life Insurance. With over 15 years of experience in the actuarial profession, including 10 years post-qualification, he has built expertise across valuation, pricing, and strategic business advice.

Peter's work focuses on providing insightful financial and risk analysis to inform executive decision-making. He leads valuation initiatives, has led pricing projects, and works to optimise capital frameworks while ensuring regulatory compliance. His ability to deliver analyses that drive business success has made him a valued contributor to strategic discussions and business planning.

Throughout his career, Peter has developed strong capabilities in translating complex actuarial concepts into actionable business insights. He enjoys working at the intersection of technical rigor and commercial strategy, helping organisations navigate financial and regulatory challenges while identifying opportunities for growth and optimization. Peter believes strongly in the importance of mentors, both professionally and personally, and enjoys helping guide junior professionals and shaping their working experience. He sees mentoring as beneficial for both parties, helping mentors develop key communication skills while giving back to the profession. This belief in the value of mentorship drives his participation in the program.

Apply now

See all mentors

See Peter's LinkedIn →

Actuaries Institute.