

Stephen Burke

Senior Valuation Actuary - Hannover Re

Skills & experience

Life insurance valuation actuary with experience in pricing, capital optimisation, and regulatory compliance. Stephen can support you in emotional awareness, engagement and culture, communication and influence, problem solving, and commercial acumen.

Stephen Burke is a qualified actuary and experienced professional who serves as Senior Valuation Actuary at Hannover Re. With over 15 years of commercial experience in the life insurance industry, he has built comprehensive expertise across the core technical functions that drive insurance operations.

Stephen's career spans diverse roles across major industry players. Prior to his current position as Senior Valuation Actuary at Hannover Re, he served as Senior Actuary, Asset Liability Management at Resolution Life. He started his career at AMP working in various actuarial roles including valuation, product and insurance risk management, group risk pricing and then on the implementation project for the new IFRS 17 accounting standard as AMP then became Resolution Life.

This progression gave him deep understanding of the actuarial control cycle and enables him to understand how different technical functions interconnect and how decisions in one area impact the broader business.

Throughout his career, Stephen has had mentors who have been a positive influence both professionally and personally. As he has progressed in his career, he looks forward to the opportunity to mentor someone early in their career and provide the same support he experienced at that stage. His approach draws on his own mentoring experiences and understanding of the challenges facing actuaries in their formative professional years.
