

Liz Baker

Independent Consultant, Finance and Risk Management

Skills & experience

Senior finance, actuarial, and risk executive with international experience across CFO, CRO, and consulting roles in Australia, Paris, Tokyo, and Singapore. Liz can support you in stakeholder engagement, communication and influence, growing capability, direction and purpose, and commercial acumen.

Liz Baker is a qualified actuary and senior finance, accounting, actuarial, and risk professional who works as an independent consultant in finance and risk management. Based in Sydney, she brings diverse Australian and international experience in financial services, executive leadership roles, and consulting.

Liz is an experienced Chief Financial Officer, Senior Risk Officer, Actuary, and Consultant who has led finance and actuarial functions and worked with business, boards, executive stakeholders, auditors, and regulators. Her international experience includes working in Paris, Tokyo, and Singapore, giving her comprehensive perspective on how financial services operate across different markets and regulatory environments. She is a member of the Risk Management Practice Committee.

As an experienced mentor, Liz is happy to provide general guidance, development points, and tips for successful careers combining finance, risk management, and actuarial disciplines. She works with mentees at all career stages and those looking to broaden their network, drawing on her diverse experience across multiple functions and geographies.

Liz studied actuarial studies at Macquarie University, holds a Masters of Applied Finance, is a CPA, and is a Graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.
